Abjit Ganguly, a Bengali boy from Delhi, made the audience LOL with his stand-up act. Famous for his digs on office humour, marriage and politics, he cracked jokes about growing up in a middle-class household and then even went on to joke about how his present audience will probably not get most of his jokes, having grown up rich (because realty).

The award for Best Upcoming Budget Residential Project (Above 4 lakh sq ft) went to Eternis, which is developed by Srjan Reality. The award was given by Usha Gupta, director of LT Group, and actress Sonalce Choudhuri.

The award for Best Upcoming Commercial Project went to The Volt, which is developed by PS Group. The award was given by Vijay Shankar Beriwal, chairman, Vidit Group and actress Moubani Sorcar. PS Group took home multiple awards for developers in various categories.

The award for Best Residential Project—Completed—CREDAI Howrah Hooghly/Asansol/North Bengal went to Embee Fortune.

Best Upcoming Luxury Residential Project (Above 1 lakh sq ft) went to The Reserve, developed by PS Group with architects MNC Consultant, Agarwal & Agarwal and Landscape Tectonix.

Ambuja Neotia Group took home the award for the Best Digital Presence.

The Best Upcoming Mid Segment Residential Project (Upto 1 Lakh sq ft) went to Shree Krishna Ashree, developed by Yaduka Group and architect Sayan Dey, awarded by Moubani Sorcar.

The host for the evening was Mir who made the audience crack up with his one-liners. "There are only three sarkars in this country — Kendriya sarkar, Raja sarkar and P.C. Sorcar!" joked Mir, with Moubani Sorcar by his side.

This has been a tremendous journey with the event becoming grander with each passing year. I believe, an award like this helps in enhancing the transparency of the entire industry — R. Vasudevan, senior director and business head, CRISIL Real Estate Gradings

This award recognises real estate brilliance and it has been a deeply rewarding journey for us, going at five years strong. We received over 70 nominations. This award is a fitting tribute to the best in the industry — Nandu Belani, president, CREDAI Bengal
